CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Grants Development

- I am the University Chief Research Officer
- In 2008, I was the Project Director of the NIH-funded Extramural Associate Research Development Award. I participated in an 8-week training at the NIH in Bethesda. The primary goal was to develop an Office of Research and Sponsored Projects at Texas A&M International University.
- In 2009, I oversaw the development of the TAMIU Office of Research and Sponsored Projects. I hired an outstanding staff. Extramural funding increased from $150,000 in 2007 to a current five-year average of $ 12.5 million per year in external funding.
- My staff is frequently cited as one of the best run units on campus and we work very well together. Faculty members seek us out for training. They work with us on finding the right proposals to pursue and we go far beyond their expectations in providing support for their proposals.
- I oversee the University Research Council to administer an internal grants program that offers funding for University Research and Creative Projects.

Sponsored Programs Post-Award Outreach

- Since 2008, my office has worked closely with the TAMIU Office of Grants and Contracts to support grant and contract awardees with general administration for their project. This includes direct training and support to staff assistants, meetings and phone calls to purchasing and Human Resources, as well as working with the accountants for budget administration.
- I make frequent check-ins with awardees to seek opportunities to provide support and increase their levels of success in achieving their goals.
- Provide regular trainings and work with administration on the understanding of “allowable, allocable and reasonable” budget use for awards.

Student Research & Graduate Education

- Since 2009, Coordinated the TAMIU LBV Student Research Conference averaging over 200 student research posters or presentations per year. Additionally, coordinated presentation of an average of 35 students per year competing in the Texas A&M System Pathways student research conference.
- Developed a program to fund 12 Graduate Student Summer Research Fellows providing summer stipends for students to work with faculty to develop their thesis and prepare their work for conference presentations and potential publications.

- Since 2009, worked closely with the Dean of Graduate Studies to meet one-on-ones with talented students to encourage them to attend graduate school at TAMU or elsewhere. Supported students in developing their applications for Fellowships, Assistantships, and other funding sources.
- As a faculty member, I have mentored students and prepared them to attend many of the most prestigious Ph.D. programs in the nation, including one student that was honored with the highly competitive Robert Wood Johnson Health Fellowship.
- Through grants, I have designed several summer research bootcamps to build faculty-student relationships and skills-building for over a dozen major fields of study.
- I oversaw the building of the TAMU/UT Health- Houston School of Biomedical Informatics 4+1 program that has sent 27 students to study advanced biomedical informatics.
- I currently serve as the Co-I for TAMU in the NSF-funded Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation. This program is a partnership that builds a pipeline for talented minority students pursue graduate study in STEM disciplines.

Research Integrity

- I serve as the University Chief Research Compliance Officer
- Develop a comprehensive University Research Compliance Annual Report and serve as Point on all Texas A&M system audits and reviews.
- I oversee the appointment of IRB, IACUC, Biosafety committee chairs and consult with their operations.
- I serve as the TAMU Export Controls Empowered Official and provide annual trainings to administration, faculty and staff.
- I serve as the TAMU Financial Conflict of Interest Officer.
- I oversee the process of research misconduct operations and consult with senior administration on outcomes and remedial action necessary related to the investigations.
- TAMU has never had a significant scandal in dealing with issues related to research integrity.

Community Outreach and Corporate Engagement

- I am one of the most visible public faces for the university. I have been trusted to frequently speak with the media to publicize events and I represent the University at key partner meetings, including the annual City of Laredo trip to Washington D.C.
- I have a direct line to several key political leaders in the region and am authorized to support the TAMU President's agenda in creating developmental opportunities.

Faculty Service

- I teach one course per semester and work towards a research agenda to keep an understanding of what faculty researchers deal with on a daily basis.
