

MARKETABLE SKILLS FOR MUSIC DEGREES

B.A. Double Major with a major in music

Upon graduation, the student will:

- demonstrate basic teaching skills in music that support the possibility of completing the ACP requirements for public school teaching.
- demonstrate innovation in the application of creative ideas as developed through cross-curricular learning.
- apply a professional work ethic through critical thinking that creatively combines the backgrounds of the two major fields of study.
- model self-confidence and assertiveness that promotes successful performance in their skills-related fields.

B.M. Performance

Upon graduation, the student will:

- apply patience, discipline and resilience towards competition for graduate programs.
- demonstrate the organizational skills necessary to manage a long-term artistic project.
- apply flexibility to adapt under stressful situations both professional and personally while advocating for the arts.
- recognize and identify continued practice methods for self-improvement as a professional musician.

B.M. All-level Certification

Upon graduation, the student will:

- develop and apply leadership through coaching and mentoring students.
- analyze student progress with the intent towards making effective and appropriate pedagogical decisions.
- apply excellent communication skills that illustrate a disarming approach to resolve student and administrative issues.
- demonstrate self-assessment skills that lead to a mantra of life-long professional development.